The Ward Meetings To-Night.

WHIGS OF NEW-YORK! This Evening you are called to assemble in your several Wards and elect Delegates to represent you in the Conventions to nominate Whig candidates for Senator, Members of Congress, Members of Assembly and Register. Will you respond to the call?

If you attend universally, and act independently and intelligently, the result must be auspicious. Sound, discreet, unselfish men will be placed on your Committees, and these will select candidates of known ability, tried integrity, and eminent fitness for the important trusts for which they are commended. With such caudidates, a glorious result is morally certain. With others-but why need we think of it? You will attend to this business; you will see that good men are placed on the Committees, and these will render certain the selection of worthy and popular candidates for the November contest-not the candidates of cliques.

but of THE PEOPLE. With such we must triumph. There probably never was a time when personal character would have more weight in an election than now. It is most evident that not the men who want but those who are wanted must be put forward in all cases. Come forward, Whigs! and secure it!

TE Every Whig who neglects attending the meeting in his Ward to-night virtually proclaims that he has no choice as to the men who shall be placed on our Congress or County tickets, but will vote for one Whig as soon as another. Whenever any Whig grumbles that the right men are not in nomination hereafter, we shall ask him, "Sir, did you attend your Ward Meeting and try to send good men to the Nominating Convention!"

W HENRY CLAY left Ashland on the 26th for Maysville, and arrived at Cincinnati by steamboat next morning, on his way to the Great Dayton Convention. John J. Crittenden, Thomas Metcalf, Leslie Combes, Messrs. Breck, Harlan and Thompson, M. C., were with him. We shall soon hear from the Convention itself.

W Hon. Ggo. N. BRIGGS of Massachusetts. (Berkshire District) declines a re-election to Con gress. His retirement is a National loss.

FIRE .- The Buffalo Commercial Advertiser notices a destructive fire at Black Rock on the 30th ult., which destroyed the oil mill of Mr. J. S Smith, the saw mill of Gen Porter, the trip forge and dwelling of Mr. Justin, two distifleries, our owned by Messrs. Blossom & Shumway, and the other by Messrs. Sherwood & McPherson, and a saleratus factory owned by Mr. J. N. Fisher. The whole loss was about $20,000, and not a cent of the property was insured.

The Herald is perfectly mum about the 'unparalleled expedition' with which it published Webster's Speech, on Saturday morning, and labors bard to show that his report was corrrect when it did appear. We gave specimens of its beauties yesterday-particularly of its happy translations from the Latin; and had prepared for to-day a string of parallel quotations which exhibit its constant perversions of Mr. Webster's meaning, but we have no room for them today, nor is the 'game worth the candle.' Let this fact, however, speak for the comparative merit of the two reports:-not a single paper has quoted the Herala's, while ours has been copied, with credit, by the American, the Commercial Advertiser, the Journal of Commerce, the Express the Newark Advertiser, the Philadelphia Sentinel, the United States Gazette, and many others, and without by the Courier & Enquirer, the Union and the Philadelphia Gazette; and will be by fifty others throughout the Country in less than a fortnight,

MR. AHERN'S DEFALCATION .- We chanced to be at the Board of Aldermen last evening when the communication from the Meyor was read concerning the defalcation of his lase clerk. Mr. Morris speaks very complacently about it, and goes on at some length to show that the same thing might have happened under any of his predecessors. He some enterprize accomplished; or the full and able report which you have given us of Mr. Webster's Speech. The speaks of the measures he has taken to provide against such 'contingencies' hereafter, and mentions that he has directed Messrs. Robert Taylor citizens as it has long been with our Editors; they rely on and S. J. Willis to examine all the accounts of the receiving officers of the Common Council. The paper excited some remark. Alderman Underwood was surprised that the Mayor should so coolly make this assertion, as he never thought of the matter until he, as Chairman of the Finance Committee, had directed the investigation, and until Mr. Taylor had fairly set about it. Alderman Purdy tried to rescue the Mayor from these attacks, and said he was sorry to hear him blamed for having done his duty. It was not for this, Alderman Underwood said, that he blamed him, but for stating what was not true. He wished the paper referred to the Finance Committee, which wished to examine it in connection with a certain $5000 of which they were just now in search. Alderman Purdy wished that the paper might at least be printed before it went to any Committee, but this was lest; and the communication was referred to a Special Committee, consisting of Aldermen Bonnell. Underwood and Jones.

POLITICAL STABBING .- Andrew Parsons, late Member of the New Jersey Council from Passaic County, was dangerously stabbed at the Canal Hotel, Aquacknock township, N. J., on Saturday evening. A Whig meeting had just been held there, in which Mr. Parsons participated, and at its close a political discussion occurred between him and some Loco-Focos there collected. One of them, a blacksmith, named Vreeland, not a resident of the county, proceeded from hard words to blows, striking Mr. Parsons in the face. Mr. Parsons thereupon clenched him, but the by-standers interposed to part them, when it was found that Mr. Parsons had he stabbed in the region of the heart, by a Toco, named Sanwound is happily lerson, during the a ee inches long .not dangerous, though . Sanderson was seen to strike at Parsons during he melee, and immediately afterward to go to the anal and drop something into it-a knife of ourse. Both Sanderson and Vreeland were nercupon arrested and lodged in Passaic County

ATTEMPT AT HOUSE-BREAKING .- The dwelling of Mr. A. G. Thorpe, 197 East Broadway, was visited by some villain or villains who forced out one of the fan-lights of the back basement door, out were unable to reach the key; apparently they then visited the back perch, succeeded in opening one of the windows, and then fled without doing further damage in consequence of becoming alarmed, it is supposed, taking with them the stepadder as far as the back fence where they made good their retreat. Nearly every house in this block has been tried by burglars within the last year, and many of them robbed of various articles. principally silver-plate, spoons, &c.

MAIL ROBBERS .- Peter and John Holderman prothers, have been arrested at Drummondville Canada, on suspicion of having been concerned in the robbery of the mail which occurred in February last between Frederickton and Wheeling. They have been headed towards Maryland for trial.

Things in Philadelphia.

PHLADELPHIA, Oct. 2, 1842. Our Grand Jury has at length found a bill against Alexander, the murderer of Lowgee. The McEwen case pro gresses slowly. The character of the parties, the compli cated nature of the offences-seduction, rape, conspiracy kc,-with the formidable array of Philadelphia lawyers nake it altogether an exciting and revolting affair. The powerful attempt to defeat the testimony of the wife-who s but 21 years of age and quite pretty-was not successful She has given her story to the Jury, which shows a say history of woman's weakness, confiding tenderness, frailty Yesterday commenced her cross-examination which will be continued to morrow. It is conducted prin pally by David Paul Brown, one of the most ingeniou regarding by the thoughts, actions and motives of a wit ess that our criminal courts ever had. He is unmercifu is well as searching, and with nerves of steel probes to the mick. You may recollect a murder was con quick. You may reconfect a murger was committed in an adjoining State not leng since, the culprit assigning as one reason of his rashness, that Mr. Brown could clear him.—Mr. B. did not undertake the defence, and the murderer received his just sentence.

A man who accepts an office, which he has no right to claim, voluntarily puts himself in subjection to the whims, caprices, and perhaps resentments of his patron, and has no business to utter a word of complaint when removed.

The above is the 'only comment' the Bosto Courier chooses to make on the statement of Jonathan Roberts, the late Collector of the Port of Philadelphia. It needs a commentary, and we should feel particularly grateful to the Courier if it will state explicitly what it means by the 'right to claim' any office in the Executive gift, and in what respects the President of the United States is to be regarded as the 'patron' of those to whom may be committed the subordinate offices of the Government. We have been taught to believe hat the vast patronage of the National Administration is intended to be something else than the immense corruption fund which Van Buren, John Tyler and the Boston Courier seems to consider it.

For the Tribune.

Who could have believed it? Surely a mighty hange has taken place either in the man or in the paper. I have lived to see what I never expected-the Evening Post defending Daniel Webster! O tempora, O mores!

During the present fine weather, a drive to the Course is most pleasant and exhilarating, but to those who don't enjoy the luxury of sporting a 'turn out' in their own right, we recommend the Railroad as a safe, cheap and expeditions conveyance. We have taken means to enable us to give our readers a short but correct account of the result of each day's sport.

BY THIS MORNING'S MAIL.

1 PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3ct. 3, 1842. Messrs. Editors: The capital report, which The Tribune has furnished of Mr. Webster's great Speech, was read here with deep interest. It took us somewhat by surprise, as from the little said about the matter in your columns, we were not led to expect the extraordinary dispatch which energy and ability manifested upon this, as well as on former occasions, must render the Tribune as popular with our it, aimost exclusively, for early and important intelligence. This preference has arisen, however, more perhaps from the fact that its statements are always to be relied on, than for its soperior ability to obtain information; as after all a character for veracity is as important in a public journal as in an individual.

in an individual.

A fire occurred yesterday morning, about 2 o'clock, in a drug store at the corner of Third and Gaskill-streets.—
Two young men made their escape from the upper windows, the flames so suddenly enveloped every thing below; but a female hung from the outside of a third story window until too much exhausted when she let go. Her fall was so much broken by the firemen beneath as to prevent her being killed. A fire broke out soon after in an opposite direction, con

A free broke out some and opposite the bulk. As it is a free led to a repetition of the fights that so thoroughly disgrace our firemen. Its brutal fury may be judged of from the fact, that the Independence company, which commenced the onslaught, was beaten from the ground by the Ken-sington; their hose carriage taken from them, the beautisington; their nose carried agent from them, the search full paintings defaced, and the carriage them ran down to the dock, with the view of throwing it into the river. In this they were prevented by the watchmen.

NEW-YORK, Sept 27th, 1842. Hon. E. CURTIS: Sir-It has been rumored that I am to or removed from the office of Night Inspector, because, true to my principles, I have been and now am an undis-guised advocate of the principles of Henry Clay, the patriotic statesman. I have not obtruded my sentiments upon any one in violation of any rule of the department in "relation to the interference in elections;" and, sir, to spare you the unpleasant task of obeying a most contemptible requi sition, I resign-and, as you know full well. I have furth fully disch rged the duties of my office. Sir, is it not a sublime speciacle to behold the Commander of the Army, he Admiral of the Navy, the Chief Magistrate of the Nation stepping from his lofty position to inquire whether I, Wil ian H. Adams, a Night Inspector in the Customs, love John and Robert Tyler better than the statesman, HENRY CLAY: He could have found the response in his own bosom-for, in spite of his present infamy, the Presiden must admir Henry Clay of Kentucky. If John Tyler is despised, he should be reconciled to his fate; because he must hate himself. I resign rather than be a slave to so contemptible a man as John Tyler.

Yours, most respectfully, WM. II. ADAMS.

THREE PENNIES YS. Two PENNIES .- All the penny pa pers, except the Sun, are now sold we believe for Imponee. At this rate, the large or three-penny papers are much the cheapest. The size of the sheet is more than double, and the expense of conducting in the same proporion. The postage on the little papers is the same as on the large ones, so that when they are sent by mail, the dispre-portion is increased.

IT The above is from the Journal of Commerce. THE PRIBUNE is supplied in this City at nine cents per week, or ust one half the price of the Journal of Commerce and its three-penny' brethren. By the mail it is sent at Four Dollars per annum, while the Journal costs Nine or Ten Dollars per annum. And, although our sheet is smaller than the Journal, its amount of reading matter is probably not inferior. We certainly pay more every week for setting type than the Journal does, and as to "the expense of conducting we have all the departments that the Journal has and one more (Markets, Money, &c.) while our Original matter arrely exceeds that of the Journal every day. Enough.

THE CASE OF COM. DALLAS, U. S. N .- The accused appeared before the Naval Court Martial yesterday and wish ed his case to be disposed of, and as the Judge Advocate did not object, the charges and specifications were read. They arose out of some alleged acts of opprecsion said to have been inflicted by the Commodors on Lieut. R. Sinn while the former was in command at Pensacola .-The specifications charge that the accused suspended Lieut. S., confined him to his quarters, and on one occasion threatned to put him in the guard house. All, of course, wit ont sufficient cause. The accused is charged with many provoking and reproachful words, gestures and menacesaying that an assertion made by Lieut. S. " was as false as is charge," and menacing him at the same time with the guard house, using gestures caculated to provoke said Simmes, and all indicating that the Commander was in a high state of excitement.

The third charge is conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman in using certain threats, "while in a balcony, n a loud tone, as if on a restrum,"

The testimony to sustain these charges was given by Capi Hold es and Lieut Farren. The former stated that the Commodore suspended Lieut Simmes and confined him to his quarters for rejorting to the Secretary of the Navy that the accused made false musters; and on a subsequent occasion the Commodore stated that if he caught Lieut, S. outsid his house and grounds again he would put him in the guard house. This threat arose out of the fact of Lieut. S.'s leaving his limits to give a letter to the accused, which was one in a disrespectful manner.

The second witness was asked if he had ever heard the accused say that he suspended Lieut. Simmes because he did not like to meet him on duty. To this the witness replied in the negative, but admitted that the Commodore had once stated that either himself or Lieut. S. must go to to the wall. This was the case of the prosecution, and the accused no

The forts were manned, the guns caled and put in order and the troops constantly drilled.
